Dear Prof Lederberg:

Apparently my letter of June 12th does not merit your reply, and I wish to withdraw the offer it contained. When I wrote that letter I had not yet read your 'Molecular Biology, Eugencis and Euphenics.'

Sincerely yours,

Your letter puzzles me. Are you reacting to the tardiness or content of my reply (which perhaps crossed this letter in the mail)? Or did something in my article so offend you? If so, I would be interested to know ~~and~~ it was.

No reply rec'd to date (VII/5/63)

Sincerely,

P.S. I wish ~~to~~ I did have either the personal capacity or logistic apparatus to be able to deal with my correspondence more promptly.
